Contributed by the Educational Improvement Commission of Kentucky.

A FATHER'S IDEAL FOR HIS CHILD.

"The best the world can teach him he shall know.
The best his land can give him, he shall see.
And trace the footsteps where his father's trod;
See all the beauty that the world can show.
And how it is that freedom makes me free.
And how such freemen love and serve their God."

—Edward Everett Hale.

THE TEACHER'S PART.

"The greatest thing a teacher ever brings to a child is not subject-matter, but the uplift which comes from heart contact with a great personality."—Search.

THE STATE'S PART.

"It behooves every Southern State that inaugurates an educational campaign in favor of better schools to inaugurate at the same time some movement that will provide for the better training of teachers. The untrained teacher is the most expensive part of our present educational system.

"It must never be forgotten that the teacher is the real center of all education, not the place where school is kept. A large view of educational conditions in the South must convince any one that an awakened sentiment in favor of better schools must be intelligently directed. Expert educational leaders are necessary. But those leaders are yet to be trained."—Southern Education.

IMPORTANCE OF EDUCATION.

"Education has gotten into politics. Every State platform has an educational plank. The churches of our land are taking it up. It places us at the front of the century and the question is, what will you do with it? Every great leader of our country has ever had has seen the importance of an education for the coming generation. George Washington, the father of his country, gave property for educational purposes.

"Education moves the world. Education takes the wild rose and transforms it into the American Beauty. God's great work has been building up man. Stop the schools and see what will happen. The printing presses and transportation will cease by degrees and the world will come to a standstill. An engine will be running along and the engineer will die at his post. There will be no one to take his place. So it is. Where would the world be to-day if it were not for education."—Chancellor J. H. Kirkland.

"The people have a right to the privileges of an education and it is the duty of the State to guard and maintain that right."—Constitution of N. C.

"The general assembly shall by appropriate legislation provide for an efficient system of common schools throughout the State."—Constitution of Ky.

What is meant by an "efficient system of common schools?" Does it mean good school houses, beautiful grounds, up-to-date equipment, and poor, untrained teachers? The history of education clearly shows that all educational reform must begin with the teacher; hence the great importance of properly preparing all our teachers for the great responsibilities resting upon them.

Our State is out of debt; our people are in favor of progress. No one would have Kentucky behind the other States of the union educationally. We are up-to-date in most things, but unfortunately statistics show us somewhat backward in education. Here is the position of Kentucky as given by the U. S. Educational Commissioner in 1903, as compared with the seven bordering States with respect to native white illiterates over 21 years of age, beginning with the least illiterate: Illinois, native white illiterates, 2.8 per cent.; Ohio, native white illiterates, 3.2 per cent.; Indiana, native white illiterates, 4.4 per cent.; Missouri, native white illiterates, 5.4 per cent.; W. Virginia, native white illiterates, 10.7 per cent.; Indiana, native white illiterates, 12.2 per cent.; Tennessee, native white illiterates, 14.1 per cent.; Kentucky, native white illiterates, 14.3 per cent.

The position of Kentucky when compared with the same States with respect to amount appropriated for the professional training of public school teachers is also last, and the others come in exactly the same order as above. What does it all mean? Does the training of teachers pay?

The Kentucky Legislature meets in January, 1906. If you have any convictions on the subject of State Normal Schools, you should at once notify your Representative and Senator as to your position in the matter. They represent you and want to do your will.

NIGHTS OF UNREST.

No Sleep, No Rest, No Peace for the Sufferer From Kidney Troubles.

No peace for the kidney sufferer—Pain and distress from morn to night.
Get up with a lame back.
Twinges of backache bother you all day.
Dull aching breaks your rest at night.
Urinary disorders add to your misery.
Get at the cause—cure the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills will work the cure.

They're for the kidneys only—Have made great cures in Frankfort.

W. T. Frazier, proprietor of Frazier's Candy Kitchen, 43 St. Clair St., residing at No. 5 Second St., says: "The efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills was amply proven in my case. I suffered from backache a great deal, often so severely that I could not turn in bed. In the morning when I got up, it was a common thing to feel lame and sore in the back. Being on my feet so much of the time in my store no doubt tended to aggravate the trouble. Anxious to find some relief and a permanent cure, if possible, when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, and saw them so highly recommended by people living near by, I went to J. W. Gayle's drug store and got a box. It was a glad surprise to me to find that after taking them for a day or two they were removing the pain. I continued the treatment, and by the time I had finished the box, the trouble was entirely removed. Up-to-date, I have felt no recurrence. It is a pleasure to me to endorse this preparation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. For-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is the magazine. Why?

FIRST—PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a number, for over thirteen hundred two-column pages of reading matter. This amounts in actual bulk to twenty or twenty-five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short story writers, the best writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's Reminiscences or Baker's Railroad articles.

THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subject in the next twelve months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and rebates and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is never a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.

McClure's Magazine

In your home is intended to work only for good. Send $1.00 to-day for one year's subscription, or leave an order at your book-store. November and December free with new subscriptions for 1906.

Christmas Shoppers—Read Every Word.

And it's time for every one who makes Xmas Gifts to classify under this heading, because—well, you know how uncomfortable is the nervous, feverish rush of the last few days before Xmas at every shopping place.

What we want to impress upon your minds is the practical nature of this store's Holiday Goods. You like to receive gifts of utility, durability and worth—it's the same with your friends.

Any sort of a remembrance is appreciated at the time of receiving; but it's the careful sensible gift that occasions the lasting feeling of gratitude and good will.

Perhaps you have not thought of choosing a set of warm furs for a gift—a new waist would be an irresistible present—great scarfs of Chiffon and Crepe are bewitchingly beautiful—gloves are always acceptable—and an umbrella is a gift which never goes out of fashion.

REVENUE OFFICERS CONFISCATE KENTUCKY DISTILLERY AND GOVERNMENT GAUGER IS ARRESTED.

Middlesboro, Ky., Dec. 18.—One of the largest raids ever made by revenue officers in Kentucky was made here to-day by five Deputy Collectors and Marshals.

The distillery of the Middlesboro Distilling Company and 14,000 gallons of whisky which had not had the prescribed tax upon it paid, were confiscated by the officers. The Government gauger, Carter Smith, was arrested as being an accessory in assisting the operators in disposing of their whisky by illegal methods.

Deputy Collector Ballard in an interview said: "We have suspected for eighteen months that the Middlesboro distillery was being run crookedly, but didn't obtain enough evidence to justify a raid until to-day. Two men have been secretly watching the plant for two days and, after seeing the methods employed there, we seized the whole plant and 14,000 gallons of whisky."

The officers of the company are prominent citizens and the disclosures have caused much surprise here. It is understood from a reliable source that the officials will probably be arrested within a short time.

Y. M. C. A. BAZAAR.

The Ladies' Committee of the Y. M. C. A. held their bazaar, as previously announced, on Wednesday last.

The rooms formerly occupied by Messrs. R. Rogers & Sons, in the old Yeoman building, were beautifully and tastefully decorated and everything was as attractive as could well be conceived, under the tasteful management of these good women.

The building was crowded with buyers and those desiring meals from a short while after it was opened in the morning until the Frankfort Orchestra played "Good night."

Delightful and bounteous meals were served all day and all the evening.

A big supply of blooming flowers in pots and cut flowers were quickly disposed of. Dainty and attractive articles suitable for Christmas presents were on hand and likewise went off like hot cakes.

We are happy in being able to say that a handsome sum was realized for the good purposes for which the bazaar was gotten up.

SALE OF STOCK, FARMING UTENSILS, etc.

Mr. Morton L. Raily, who owns and lives upon the old Len Cox place, on the Steadman town pike, will sell all his stock, farming utensils, household and kitchen furniture, etc., at public sale on Thursday, January 4, 1906. A lot of very desirable property will be sold. Dec. 16-17.

JUMP FROM TRAIN.

While Sheriff Schmitt, of Jefferson county, was en route to this city with a big batch of prisoners, on Wednesday morning, when just this side of Pleasureville, two of them (John Klein and Thomas Williams) made a rush for the car door, and jumped from the train, although handcuffed together. The train was going at the rate of twenty miles per hour. Notwithstanding this they escaped injury and hid in a brush pile, near the track. It happened that Jailer Manby, of Oldham county, was on the same car and saw the men jump. He followed and soon had the men in tow, and they were again put on the train and brought to the Pen.

NO SECRET ABOUT IT.

It is no secret, that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c at all druggists.

ACCIDENT TO GOVERNMENT OFFICER.

"DIGESTIBLE ELBOW."

Queer names sometimes are given to very ordinary things. For instance, a gentleman was coming down Main street the other day, when he met an old colored man who asked him where he could find a tinner's shop. When asked what he wanted the old fellow said: "I want to find a tin shop where I kin git a 'digestible elbow' fer this here stove pipe."

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. C. G. Green gives a personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

"In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchitis or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists."

DEATH OF MR. C. A. NELSON.

We regret to announce that Mr. Cornelius A. Nelson, superintendent of the Heritage Coopershop, and former member of the Board of Education, died at his home on Campbell street, this city, on Monday night last.

Mr. Nelson was a useful and popular citizen, energetic, industrious and faithful to every trust imposed upon him.

He was about 59 years of age, was born in Maryland, but was reared in Madison county, coming to this city in 1879 to accept the position of superintendent of the coopershop of Messrs. W. A. Gaines & Co., which position he had filled to the perfect satisfaction of his employers ever since.

Mr. Nelson was a member of a number of fraternal organizations—Odd Fellows, Knights of Honor, Red Men, Knights of the Maccabees, United Workmen and Junior Order American Mechanics—in all of which he was highly esteemed and honored as a brother faithful and true.

In early manhood he was married to Miss Rose McEnnis, of Columbia, Penn., and she, together with four daughters (Mrs. Lucien Rice and Mrs. Robert Osborne, of Louisville; Miss Lula B. and Miss Clara Annette Nelson) and one son (Mr. W. C. Nelson) survive him.

The funeral services, which were held under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, were held on Wednesday afternoon from the Methodist Church, services being conducted by Rev. J. O. A. Vaught, of the Methodist Church.

There was a very large turnout of brethren of the various orders. We have known Mr. Nelson ever since he came to this city and we have always been warm friends.

SENT TO ASYLUM.

Mr. John H. Triplett, Jr., was adjudged of unsound mind, on Monday, in Judge Polsgrove's court, and sent to the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, at Lexington.

All Run Down

THIS is a common expression we hear on every side. Unless there is some organic trouble, the condition can doubtless be remedied. Your doctor is the best adviser. Do not dose yourself with all kinds of advertised remedies—get his opinion. More than likely you need a concentrated fat food to enrich your blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

It is just such a food in its best form. It will build up the weakened and wasted body when all other foods fail to nourish. If you are run down or emaciated, give it a trial: it cannot hurt you. It is essentially the best possible nourishment for delicate children and pale, anaemic girls. We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Cured

At 70 of Heart Disease Contracted

Heart disease is curable, but in people of advanced age it does not readily lend itself to ordinary treatment. There is, however, hope for all sufferers in Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which we know from watching hundreds of cases and from the letters of grateful sufferers, will cure where all else has failed. It is not only a wonderful cure for weak and diseased hearts, but it is a blood tonic, a regulator of the heart's action and the most effective treatment ever formulated for improving the circulation of the blood.

"During the Civil war I contracted heart disease, and in 1865, while living in the grand old town of Lexington, Va., I grew so much worse, I wrote with my wife to visit my sister-in-law, Mrs. T. A. Kirby, at Roanoke, Va. While I said nothing to anyone I never expected to live to return to the dear old town. On reaching Mrs. Kirby's she insisted I should try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I procured a few bottles of it, and the Nervine and Tonic. After using one or two bottles, I could see no improvement, and I despaired of ever being better, but my faithful wife insisted on keeping it up, which I did, and improvement began to appear and I took in all fifteen or a dozen bottles. I was restored to perfect health and while I am 70 years old, I am comparatively a boy. You see, I am a benefactor, and I cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to suffering humanity."—J. L. SLAUGHTER, Salem, Va.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Chas. Strange, who lives on a farm of Col. H. P. Mason, near Jetts, went to the barn to milk her cows, about 4 o'clock, leaving her two children, one aged about four years and the other about two years, in the house. Soon after Mrs. Strange heard the little one screaming, and, upon hastening to the house, found the four-year-old girl a mass of flames, her clothing having caught from the grate fire.

The horrified mother soon had the fire out, but not until the little one was horribly burned.

Dr. C. M. Coblin, of this city, was notified by telephone and went at once to the scene. In the meantime, sympathizing neighbors had done all they could for the little sufferer.

Mr. Strange, who is employed by Col. Mason, was away from the house on the farm at work.

There is one chance in ten for the little girl to recover.

PHILATHIA CLASS.

Mr. W. S. Farmer's Philathia Bible Class, of the Baptist Church Sunday-school, will give an attractive sale Saturday at his store on Main Street. These young ladies, of whom there are some eighteen or twenty, will have set apart for their special use one of the large windows of W. S. Farmer's dry goods store, and will have on sale that day a large assortment of handmade handkerchiefs and delicious home-made candy. These young girls have promised themselves the laudable task of giving and endowing a bed at the King's Daughters Hospital, and in their very worthy enterprise deserve all the success that can be given to them. The hospital is always at a great expense, and any good movement looking in the direction of lending a helping hand here is doing blessed service. Especially at this Christmas time can we afford to remember that we are really giving unto Him when we give unto the very least of these.

NOTED TURFMAN PASSES AWAY.

Capt. Sam S. Brown, one of the most prominent turfmen in the country, and owner of the famous Lexington race track, also owner of a big Fayette county farm, passed away at his home in Pittsburgh, Penn., on Monday last. He was an up-to-date, progressive gentleman.

SATURDAY'S BLAZE.

FOURTH PASTORS' SUNDAY-SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

Louisville, Ky., January 30, 31, February 1, 2, 1906.

In 1902 there was started in the city of Louisville, one of the most notable Sunday-school movements of modern times, a movement that has attracted attention all over America, viz., A Pastors' Sunday-School Institute. For four days each year, under the leadership of Sunday-school experts, we have discussed the work of the Sunday-school from the standpoint of the pastors' relation to it, and his consequent duties.

January 30, next, we are to begin the Fourth Annual Session, and it bids fair to eclipse all previous ones. We have secured for the faculty this year, five of the choicest Sunday-school leaders in America—Mr. Marion Lawrence, International General Secretary, and America's greatest all-around Sunday-school man; Bishop John H. Vincent, one of the originators of the International Lessons, and a recognized leader in teacher training and pastoral leadership for the Sunday-school; Hon. P. H. Briscoe, of Washington, D. C., Superintendent of a Sunday-school of over 2,000, and a recognized leader in Sunday-school work; Dr. J. M. Frost, of Nashville, Editor of the Sunday-school literature of the Southern Baptist Church, and an eloquent speaker; Mr. N. B. Broughton, Raleigh, N. C., President of his State Association, and now being considered for the International work. Surely with such an array of talent such as this, not only pastors, but Sunday-school workers of every class will be attracted in large numbers. This without doubt will be the greatest Sunday-school meeting ever held in the South outside of the International Convention. All pastors will be entertained, and it is most earnestly recommended that Sunday-schools send their pastors and pay their way. The pastors will appreciate it, and it will be the finest investment you can possibly make. For program and full particulars, address E. A. Fox, Louisville Trust Building, Louisville, Ky.

GIVE YOUR STOMACH REST.

Nothing will hurt digestion that doesn't digest the food, itself, and give the stomach rest. You can't expect that a weak stomach will regain its strength and get well when it is compelled to do the full work that a sound stomach should do. You wouldn't expect a sick horse to get well when it is compelled to do a full day's work every day of the week. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant and digests the food regardless of the condition of your stomach. Relieves indigestion, belching, sour stomach, and all stomach disorders. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

AWARDED CONTRACT.

Mr. Geo. A. Lewis, of this office, was awarded the contract, on Friday, to print and bind the Decisions of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky for two years.

The contract was awarded by the commission, composed of the Judges of the Court of Appeals, upon competitive bids. There were four or five other contestants.

The commission was raised by an act passed by the last Legislature, and took this work out of the hands of the regular State Printing Commission.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer clime, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle, 50c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists. 1 yr.

THE ENDURING CAST.

If one could be fortunate enough to study the statues and busts of Lord Taft—the wonderful sculptor of Chicago—one's attention would be instantly directed to the fact of how faithfully the artist delineates the chief characteristics of each by a single feature, and as he tears to pieces the positive clay, the features are destroyed, leaving nothing but the mold impression—The enduring cast.

No man, also, is segregated from the great clay box of nature, the breath of life is blown into his nostrils; he sings and plays his little part in the comic-tragedy of a dramatic existence, and then with folded hands quietly slips away from the stage of action, and returns to the "dust as it was."

Such an exit, seemingly, means success of mind and matter, but "We know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens," and the soul—immortal, destined to live forever, remains inviolate—the enduring cast.

Taine said: "That a fixed idea is like the iron rod which sculptors put in their statues—it impales and sustains"—so the thought of individual verity, the unity of composite resemblance still remains a factor in the mask of facial interpretation, and the plastic mold retains the enduring cast, so history repeats itself; not alone in the affairs of nations, but in the ego, as well, reproducing in "face simile" the habits, tastes, inclinations and dispositions of one's forefathers, leaving in social distinctions, all those aristocratic tendencies to us so thoroughly familiar; as well as the common usurpation of vulgar and unattractive guise. We see men as they really are. The gentlemanly, courteous, the ungracious cosmopolitan, the effete despicable; meeting them in social functions, at private and public receptions; in business relations, and "at home," where all those pleasing attributes, and charming amenities, serve as so much value in the bank of conventionalities. Can we point with pride to the present American, as to the past Kentuckian—with the same feelings of awe and reverence with which our infant minds were imbued by the expressed teachings of parental culture—as to ministerial dispositions, law, medicine, or educational acumen?

Do we regard the true methods of business with the same righteous indignation as we were taught to observe it in days when a man's word was as his bond? Is our faith in the individual as real, or our trust as stable as our father's confidence imposed or reposed in him? To-day it appears as a tax imposed on the body politic, of women, to entertain without cards and wine. Does it seem improbable that the men following in the line of progression would or could hesitate to "follow suit," dissipating their funds of rest or recreation in the "flowing bowl," as well as in the exchange and interchange of mental and moral suasion—for breathe it lightly to the gods: "A woman's will is a man's will," and every individual (man) who has lost good name and prestige at home and "society" has lost it through the perfidy of a woman.

She it is who can mold into either perfect or imperfect features the enduring cast. If our Congress could subserve the righteous cause of hymenal combativeness, by a strict observance of lawful esthetics, and our legislators would enact an edict positively condemning the utter disregard now held for the marriage relation, we would no longer shudder at the coldblooded murders perpetrated daily, and foisted into notoriety by the daily press, and the mongers of scandal. Nor longer blush to hear that our dearest friends, Mr. and Mrs. Society, had separated, while their children had been given over to lawyers, and their wealth had been squandered in the reckless expenditure of caprice and revenge. The shame of it! The message of the President wisely directs the attention of a community at large, to the necessity for retrenchment of individual expenditure—for a pause in the hurry and haste of extravagant living—where in the wear and tear (to heart and brain) is inimical to the right measure of time and tide, and unless so considered in a personal sense to each and every individual, must result in loss to the Nation, the State, and the community as well.

A return to the broad road of standard excellence in social and moral character; in the resultant force of connected methods and aims; in the use of energetic measures, and positive combinations whereby we, as Americans, can cope with any affair of State, and resolve in the dignity of a restored magnanimity to restore—the enduring cast.

POSTOFFICE

Preparing for Rush Before Christmas—Some Timely Hints.

The approach of Christmas is being felt in the mailing department at the Postoffice. For a week or more numbers of packages containing gifts for friends in distant lands have been daily received for dispatch. The amount of mail matter handled during the two weeks before and the week after Christmas in the local Postoffice and in other Postoffices throughout the country is simply enormous, taxing the strength and endurance of the employees to handle same. At the local office during the holidays the clerks work many hours overtime in order to relieve the congestion.

The continued prosperity of the country and magnificent display of Christmas good by all the merchants is the prognosticator of a greater distribution of presents and gifts this year than ever before. In spite of the untold number of packages passing through the mails during the holidays, the handling of the same is done expeditiously and with very little loss.

Postmaster Drane says that packages should be put in strong boxes or in canvas bags, and if not first-class must be tied so as to bear easy inspection by the officials.

It is advisable to send packages of small weight under letter post, age, which is first-class, for 2 cents for each ounce or fraction thereof.

First-class postage is sealed against inspection, and one can enclose a letter or any kind of writing in same.

Books, printed matter, etc., are transmitted through the mails at third-class rate of postage, or 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. No writing whatever is permitted in packages mailed at third-class rate. If such writing is found on inspection by officials the package is rated as first-class and held for postage.

All articles of merchandise go as fourth-class matter at the rate of 1 cent for each ounce or fraction thereof. The conditions applicable to writing in third-class matter obtain in the fourth-class also. The weight of packages is limited to four pounds.

The only writing permissible in third and fourth-class matter is a card bearing the name of the sender. The addition of such words as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "Lovely Yours," "From Mother to Dear Sue" and the like on such cards subjects the whole package to letter postage.

The custom of mailing packages so as to be deliverable on the morning of Christmas Day has changed within the last few years; especially is it true that people now send packages to friends at distant points days in advance of Christmas. In order to reach points in the far Eastern and Western States senders should deposit their mail in the office not later than December 18, 19 and 20, and for the Central States not later than December 21 and 22. Presents intended for persons residing in the city of Frankfort and Franklin county can be deposited on the 23d and be delivered on Sunday and Monday, 24th and 25th.

HUGE TASK.

It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion, and suffered from dreadful backache, headache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by all druggists; price 50c."

BUSINESS MEN'S EXCURSION.

The Business Men's Excursion, run over the F. & C. Railway, on Wednesday, was a big success. The train consisted of five coaches packed full of people until there was not even standing room. The first train in could not hold all the people, leaving a big crowd at Switzer, who had to wait until the train could send back for them.

Not expecting quite so many the train was one coach short. The excursionists swarmed all over the city and visited all the points of interest, including the New Capitol site.

The merchants did a fine business and when the train went back at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, it bore a tired, but happy crowd of people, who voted Frankfort's Business Men the finest ever.

OF INTEREST HERE.

The following announcement will be of interest to the many relatives of the bride-to-be in this city. She is a daughter of Mr. Thos. B. Monroe, Jr., and wife (nee Miss Blandina Hord):

"The marriage of Miss Anna Monroe, of Houston, Tex., and Mr. George Lyons, of New Orleans, will take place in New Orleans at the home of Miss Monroe's uncle, Judge Frank Monroe, at 5 o'clock, December 16.

"The couple will go to Pass Christian, Miss., to spend two weeks, and will sail January 9 for Algiers, where they will spend the winter."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup seems especially adapted to the needs of the children. Pleasant to take; soothing in its influence; it is the remedy of all remedies for every form of throat and lung disease.

EXCURSION OVER THE F. & C.

Eight jolly merchants left on the 6:30 train on Wednesday morning, December 10, to conduct the excursionists to Frankfort. They were: Messrs. Charlie Weitzel, W. H. Simpson, W. S. Farmer, Phil D. Arnold, C. Steele Reading, John H. Cassell, Will C. Lutkemeier and Western D. Furr.

Arriving at Paris at 8 o'clock, a. m., where a special was made up, one coach being reserved for the Bourbon College, who were very demonstrative with their college "yells." Other coaches being rapidly filled as we were passing through the many stations along the F. & C.

Upon arriving at Switzer, coaches being already filled, could not take more passengers aboard, a special was sent back for them, train arriving at Frankfort at 10:15 a. m. A jollier or more congenial crowd could not have been found in old Kentucky, and were received with that hospitality that makes Frankfort and its people so noted.

The Y. M. C. A. served an elegant lunch. All Frankfort papers were well represented, distributed profusely throughout the train, and by the many large and attractive advertisements, the visitors needed no one to direct them where to secure the greatest bargains. The merchants were very well pleased by their day's business, as was proven by the numerous packages and bundles that were carried to the train by the shoppers, who seemed as well pleased by their day's bargains, and that they expect to return often in the future to our city. As Mr. Weitzel says: "Have the Frankfort habit." A KID.

COMMENT.

We are amazed to learn upon good authority that there have developed two phases of the insurance situation which seriously reflects upon the hard sense of a good many presumably intelligent Americans. (1) Hundreds, even thousands, are permitting their policies to lapse. This is so stupid as to be, from the standpoint of pure self-interest, almost criminal. There is no question and has been and can be no question of the solvency of the companies. Enough has developed to prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that the total of monies wasted and not earned that might have been earned is a bagatelle in proportion to the enormous assets. Every dollar of insurance outstanding is good as gold whether a new policy ever be written or not. It is the uttermost folly, therefore, for any one to sacrifice the slightest portion of what he has paid in.

To continue the payment of premiums and demand restitution and reform is the only sane policy. (2) Thousands of policy holders are sending their proxies to Thomas W. Lawson. They would better send them to the devil himself. If the wit of man were exercised to find a way to wreck, if possible, a solvent concern, one more effective than this could not be devised. No right-thinking person can condone proven offenses, but such a jump as this would be from the frying pan, not into the fire, but into the bottomless pit. That same beings to any number likely to prove adequate to his purpose should intrust their property and the future sustenance of their beneficiaries to a professionally unscrupulous speculator seems incredible. And yet the danger is said to be real and imminent. We hope and believe it is magnified by unwarranted boastfulness on the one hand and by distorted imagination on the other.

But the interests involved are so vast and so widespread that no patriotic citizen should spare any possible effort to save credulous thousands from the inevitable consequences of their own rash action. If it be possibly true that insurance officials have become so discredited as to be impotent in withstanding the force of a wave of insanity, it is high time for the formation of a National Vigilance Committee in the interest of the home people.—Harper's Weekly.

IRVING BACHELLER'S STORY.

Some years ago, Irving Bachelier gave to the reading world a quaint romance of old York State life, and Mr. Edward E. Rose seeing the splendid dramatic possibilities in the story, presented the stage with a dramatization of the book "Eben Holden," which has not only met with wonderful success, but is very refreshing in its quaintness of character-drawing and the dialogue at times bubbles with wisdom and sparkles with wit introducing types of country folk of that portion of New York State nearest New England.

The scene of the first act is laid in the barn of David Brower, and a truer picture has never been presented on the American stage showing the interior of an old barn of that period. The second act is at "Deep Hole," a shady pool in Sinker Brook, the home of the wary trout, "The Old Settler." This scene of rustic simplicity is one of the most beautiful of all stage pictures, and in this act is introduced (Nick) the quaint old fiddler, whose only means of speech is his violin. The final act shows the kitchen of David Brower's home, with its old-fashioned fireplace and its homely surroundings. The production is an American one out and out and has all the flavor of sentiment, pathos and drollery that go to make a successful play.

Mr. Henry Horton, who plays dear old Uncle Eb, is a character actor of great ability. He is supported by Miss Louise Hamilton, a clever young leading lady as Hope Brower. The other characters are Tip Taylor, with a hair-lip, a man of all work on the farm, whose chief ambition in life is to get on the village choir; Deacon Hosper, also sheriff, who has never arrested a man, but would like to try to see how it seems; Bill Brower, Hope's sweetheart; Ransom Welker, Orville Baker, Elkenah Saupson, David Brower, Robt. Livingston (the city chap), Mrs. Brower, Mrs. Fuller, Laura Tonyhurst and the village choir, all these and other quaint characters appear in "Eben Holden," which comes to the Capital Theatre as the Christmas attraction, Monday, December 25, when the theatre will undoubtedly be crowded.

ACCIDENT TO RURAL ROUTE MAIL WAGON.

A Mr. John Church, the Rural Free Delivery Carrier, No. 1, was driving up St. Clair street, on Tuesday morning, a street car ran into and crushed down a wheel of his wagon. Luckily no one was hurt and Mr. Church procured another vehicle and went on out upon his run.

ROUGH WEATHER.

On Thursday night the weather, which had been raw and chilly all day, moderated slightly and rain began to fall, which turned to sleet and soon coated the streets and wires.

Later the rain became heavier and washed the ice off of the streets, leaving it on the trees and wires.

Altogether it was the worst of the season.

COL HOGE'S RESIDENCE NARROWLY ESCAPES DESTRUCTION.

The handsome residence of Col. Chas. E. Hoge, at Hoge Station, came near being destroyed by fire Thursday night. It seems that a lump of coal fell from the grate in the room of Mrs. Henry T. Ireys and set fire to the floor. When Mrs. Ireys went to her room to put her children to bed she discovered the flames and the alarm was given by her. The blaze was extinguished with small loss. But for the discovery so quickly made the home would have been burned.

A SPLENDID ADDRESS.

On Sunday afternoon, Dr. J. A. Stucky, of Lexington, delivered the first of a series of addresses in the Y. M. C. A. course, at the Opera House.

There was not as large a crowd present as the importance of the theme discussed should have warranted.

Dr. Stucky took for his theme "The Prodigal Daughter." He treated it in an able and unanswerable manner, showing that there was no two standards of virtue, and denounced in scathing terms the idea that more should be required of the man than the woman. In pathetic and touching language, he showed how, when once a woman sinned, there was no "open door" for her return to "hope, home and heaven."

It was an address that should have been heard and heeded by every man in Frankfort.

The second of these addresses will be delivered to-morrow afternoon at the same place, and will be by Prof. T. C. Acheson, of Central University, Danville. The hour will be 3 o'clock, and the theme "A Square Deal."

Let all the men, especially the young men, attend.

APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE HEARD "COLUMBIAN ENTERTAINERS."

The trite saying about the "small and appreciative audience" was a literal truth Tuesday evening at the Columbian Entertainers' performance at the Capital Theatre, for the audience was both small and appreciative. The work demanded an appreciative audience. The solos of Miss Stuart were unusually fine, and one thing that is seldom—if ever found—in a soloist, was her entire absence of mannerisms. Her breathing capacity was so good that one missed the disagreeable contortions that are in evidence in most artists. Her voice is full and of good, resonant quality and great volume. Miss Milne, Deering was fine and handled her instrument with loving ease. Her interpretations were thoughtful, poetic and marvelously brilliant. She, as well as Miss Stuart, received round after round of applause.

Wm. G. Milar is an artist of whom Joseph Jefferson said: "He is a good actor." His impersonations were clever. Mr. Milar is a genius and does the most creditable work. We would suggest he stick to comedy and pathos. He is better in either than in Shakespearean roles. He "caught on" with the audience and received his due in the way of applause.

CLEAR THE WAY.

The mission of "Early Risers" is to clear the way and give Nature full sway. They contain famous little pills rid the stomach and bowels of all putrid matter, thus removing the causes of headache, constipation, sallow complexion, etc. Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers never give or sicken. A safe, pleasant, perfect pill. Mac Hamilton, hotel clerk at Valley City, N. D., says: "Two bottles of these Famous Little Pills cured me of chronic constipation." Sold by J. W. Gayle.

PADUCAH TO CEASE TO BE PORT OF ENTRY.

It seems that the city of Paducah has been a port of entry for a number of years. It also appears that the receipts at its custom house have dwindled until last year they amounted to only $450 while the expense of collecting that sum amounted to many times the amount collected. So the Secretary of the Treasury has recommended that the city should no longer be a port of entry.

OPENING OF SOUTHERN RAILWAY'S HARRODSBURG- DANVILLE EXTENSION FOR PASSENGER BUSINESS.

Official announcement has been made by the passenger department of the Southern Railway that the Danville extension, from Harrodsburg to Danville, a distance of nine miles, will be opened for passenger traffic on Friday, December 1, 1905. The schedule of trains between Louisville and Lexington, and Louisville and Danville has also been officially announced and will go into effect on the same date. But little change in the time of trains has been made and the service between Louisville and Lexington will be as it has been, with the same number of through trains each way every day.

The opening of the new line will considerably reduce the time of the through southern trains on the Southern Railway and the Queen & Crescent Route. Through sleepers will go from St. Louis and Louisville by way of Danville, connecting with the Q. & C. fast trains at that point. With the trains meeting at Danville a distance of 35 miles is saved and the time can be shortened.

Lexington as well as Danville will profit by the change in the time. The same number of trains and the same train service will be in effect to Lexington, and the new time will be much more convenient for shoppers and others coming to Louisville. The early train out of Louisville for Lexington will be retained. The next train, which now leaves at 7:30 a. m., will leave at 8 o'clock and will reach Lexington correspondingly later. The early afternoon train will leave Louisville a few minutes sooner and will make connection for Q. & C. local stations at Lexington.

Under the new arrangement there will be four trains daily without change between Louisville and Lexington in each direction and two trains daily, with change, between Louisville and Danville in each direction.

The track between Harrodsburg and Danville has been used by the freight traffic for several weeks, but it was thought best not to run passenger trains over it until it had been settled finally and firmly. The line between Harrodsburg and Burgin will be operated on a much more frequent schedule than before. One train will be used and it will be made practically hourly trips between these two points, connecting at Burgin with all Q. & C. trains. This service will give Harrodsburg two ways to connect with the Q. & C.

The following is the official announcement of train service as made by the company:

Train No. 1 will leave Louisville at 8:00 a. m. instead of 7:40 a. m. with through equipment for both Lexington and Danville, arriving at those points at 10:55 a. m. and 11:15 a. m. respectively, stopping only at important points en route. This train will also carry St. Louis sleeper through to Danville.

Train No. 23 will leave Louisville at 7:45 p. m. instead of 7:25 p. m. with through equipment for both Lexington and Danville, arriving at those points at 10:45 p. m. and 11 o'clock p. m. respectively, stopping only at important stations. This train will also carry Parlor Cafe Car from St. Louis through to Danville, serving supper leaving Louisville.

Train No. 5 will leave Louisville at 6:10 a. m. as at present, making local stops and arriving at Lexington at 9:40 a. m. This train will not have connection for Danville through Lexington, but will connect at Lexington with Q. & C. Route train for local stations on that road, arriving Danville at 11:35 a. m.

Train No. 9 will leave Louisville at 3:30 p. m., 20 minutes earlier than at present, making local stops and arriving at Lexington at 8:05 p. m. This train will not have connection for Danville Branch points, but will connect with Q. & C. Route train No. 9 for local points on that line, arriving Danville at 8:05 p. m.

Train No. 24 will leave Danville at 5:30 a. m., with through coaches and Parlor Cafe Car, for Louisville and St. Louis, arriving at Lexington at 8:45 a. m. and St. Louis at 6:12 p. m. Connecting train will leave Lexington at 5:45 a. m. with through coaches for Louisville, which will be attached to the Danville train at Lawrenceburg.

Train No. 2 will leave Danville at 4:45 p. m., with through coaches and also St. Louis sleeper, arriving at 8:00 p. m., leaving Louisville at 10:15 p. m. and reaching St. Louis at 7:32 a. m. Connecting train will leave Lexington at 5 p. m. with through coaches for Louisville, which will be attached to the Danville train at Lawrenceburg.

Train No. 10 will leave Lexington at 7:30 a. m. as at present, making local stops and arriving Louisville at 10:40 a. m. This train will make connection at Lexington with Q. & C. Route local train leaving Danville at 6:10 a. m.

Train No. 6 will leave Lexington at 8:15 p. m. as at present, making local stops and arriving Louisville at 6:15 p. m. This train will connect at Lexington with Q. & C. Route, local train leaving Danville at 1:05 p. m.

All of the above trains will run daily.

Between Harrodsburg and Burgin, a frequent service will be maintained through the day, trains leaving Harrodsburg as follows: 6:45, 10:25, 1:15, 4:10, 4:30 and 5:15 p. m. In the return direction trains will leave Burgin at 5:30, 6:40, 11:00 a. m. and 1:00, 2:15 and 4:45 p. m.

These trains will run daily. The running time between the two points will be from ten to fifteen minutes.

There will be no changes in the train service between Versailles and Georgetown.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Doan's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
